PRISONERS ARRIVE—Hancock County Sheriff's Department Farm Foreman Buford Perry, left, watches as a managed federal prisoner steps on a U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service bus Wednesday afternoon while Hancock County Jail Warden Jim Odom, right, supervises. Sheriff Ronald Peterson said

16 male prisoners, mostly Haitians, and two female prisoners will be housed at the jail to replace a group of Cuban detainees moved out last month. Federal authorities pay the county $45 per day for each one housed. Five more male prisoners are expected to arrive soon. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Randolph asks supervisors' help in extending Hwy. 603 project

BY DENA BISNETTE

Residents of the Jourdan River Shores area are not the only people who want the Highway 603 four-laning project to be extended further north.

Hancock County Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph appeared before the board of supervisors on Monday to request a resolution asking for an extension of the four-laning at least as far as Stennis Airport, where a new school is being constructed.

Several Jourdan River Shores residents who spoke at a State Highway Department Public Hearing a week ago stated that they feel the four-laning should extend to the junction of Highway 43 at Kiln.

The residents were told that the project area, which extends from US-90 to Interstate 10, is determined by an average daily traffic count.

The traffic count for the area chosen, Highway Department District Engineer Claude Bennett said, was 5,340 vehicles per day in 1987 with a projected count of 9,600 by 2007.

Because the area between the I-10 intersection of Hwy. 603, also designated as Hwy. 53, and the Hwy. 43 junction has a lower traffic count, there are currently no plans to four-lane that area.

Bennett said there is also no funding for work on that section of the highway.

Randolph, who received full support of the board for his resolution, contends that the opening of the new school in 1990 or 1991 will provide a significant increase in traffic south of the airport.

The school superintendent said that there are currently about 200 vehicles leaving Hancock North Central School each weekday in addition to buses.

Counting buses, student and faculty passenger vehicles and delivery and service vehicles, Randolph said it is possible that "400 or 500 vehicles could be in and out of that campus all day."

Randolph said he expects the greater part of the traffic to use the highway south of the airport, with some reduction of the traffic to the north because fewer vehicles will be coming out of the Hancock North Central campus after the facility becomes an elementary school.

He said another factor that needs to be considered is continued growth at the industrial park, where the school will be located near the existing vocational-technical center.

Two new buildings are under construction there and a third was recently completed, the superintendent explained.

The board of supervisors resolution asks the highway department for the addition of the section between the interstate and the airport to the project or for study on four-laning the section in a later project.

Bennett told the people attending last week's hearing that the first half-mile of highway from US-90 north will consist of a widened version of the existing highway separated by a 12-foot-wide turning lane, while a new pair of lanes will be constructed on the west side of the existing two lanes in the rest of the project.

Right-of-way acquisition is tentatively scheduled to begin in June.

In other business on Monday, the supervisors:

—Took bids on repair of Mill Creek Bridge and Catahoula Creek Bridge;

—Took quotes on furniture for a district attorney's office currently being constructed next to the board of supervisor's meeting room in the Hancock County Courthouse;

—Heard a report from Reappraisal Specialist Lee Bennett regarding the upgrading of the county tax office computer system and agreed to advertise for bids for the necessary equipment, which will be paid for out of budgeted funds;

—Agreed to pay expenses for Bay-Waveland-Hancock County Civil Defense Director Norbert Redmond to attend the National Hurricane Conference in Atlanta, Ga.;

—Approved a tax exemption for a new $59,700,000 facility at the Borg Warner plant;

—Turned down a request from members of the BaySide Park Volunteer Fire Department for a name change in the BaySide Park Fire Protection District;

—Granted approval for proposed renovations at the county fairgrounds;

—Appointed Julie Brown, Dorothy Powell and Beat One Supervisor Robert Peterson to the Hancock County Animal Commission;

—Heard a presentation from J.C. Seal, inventor of a road-grading machine called the Bionic Blade, regarding the costs of grading and his repeated offers to provide a demonstration for the board of supervisors;

—Agreed not to establish any additional volunteer fire departments in the county without first obtaining the recommendation of Hancock County Fire Marshal Jay Marsh, with the exception of Penton, which is already in an organizational stage;

—Approved a letter to Bureau of Marine Resources to accompany an application for matching grant funds to improve a boat launch in Beat Three;

—Agreed to pay Mississippi Bureau of Geology for test borings to determine if the existing county landfill can be expanded and if alternate sites are suitable;

—Set a public hearing on establishment of Fenton Fire Protection District for March 31 during the board of supervisors meeting;

—Accepted petitions from Heron PROJECT—Page 2A

Super Tuesday Primaries play major role in Presidential delegate selection process

Soon the nation's spotlight will be turning toward Mississippi and the 13 other Southern and border states participating in the Super Tuesday primary on March 8.

The results of the Super Tuesday balloting may play an important role in the ultimate outcome of the presidential race.

Mississippians will also be making some important decisions about the future of the state, as Super Tuesday is also the primary election for congressional, senatorial and supreme court candidates.

The League of Women Voters of Mississippi urges all registered voters to participate in this important primary election.

For Mississippians, March 8 will represent the first opportunity to vote in a Presidential Preference Primary. Previously, the state's presidential preferences and delegate selection were determined through each party's caucus/convention system.

Now the delegate selection process will be a combination of the caucus/convention system and the new Presidential Preference Primary.

On March 8, Mississippians will be voting their preference for a presidential candidate, not for delegates pledged to that candidate.

Although exact procedures vary by party, basically each party's allotment of national convention delegates will be apportioned among the candidates according to the votes each receives in the primary.

Democratic candidates must receive at least 15 percent of the vote, and Republican candidates must receive 10 percent of the vote to earn a delegate. Super Tuesday voting determines how many delegates will be pledged to a candidate at the national convention.

Who the actual delegates will be is determined through each party's caucus/convention process.

The caucus/convention process began for the Democratic party in Mississippi with precinct meetings on Saturday, Feb. 27, and culminates with the state convention on March 26. National delegates are chosen both at the district convention and state convention.

The Republican Party in Mississippi will hold their precinct caucuses on April 30, and the delegate selection process culminates with the state convention on May 21. The delegates to the national Republican convention will be chosen at the state convention.

Anyone may attend these caucuses, and the parties welcome new participants to this process. If a person is interested in being chosen as a delegate in either party, the Mississippi parties advise that he or she contact active party members in the area to let them know of this interest.

It is also recommended to have someone at the precinct meeting who will nominate the interested person.

The League of Women Voters of Mississippi has published a pamphlet entitled "Your Role in Super Tuesday and the Presidential Delegate Selection Process," which is available by calling the league office at (601) 352-4616, or by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Super Tuesday Pamphlet, P.O. Box 55505, Jackson, MS 39216.

Remember, the only way to make your mark on presidential and Mississippi politics is to vote on Super Tuesday, March 8.

Bay water meets standards

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Bay St. Louis city officials are pleased residents did not become unduly concerned about the recent notice regarding bacteriological standards of the water.

"There is nothing wrong with the city water," according to Norbert Redmond, director of the Department of Public Works.

A message to consumers was printed on the backs of utility bills mailed during the past four weeks regarding six of 18 water samples taken which did not meet bacteriological standards.

Redmond said this is an isolated incident which should not be considered as an indicator of poor water quality.

"The Bay St. Louis water supply is considered one of the best on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," he added.

The unacceptable bacteriological level in the water samples was probably caused by the large amount of construction in the water distribution system recently, Redmond said.

"There is no question that the water coming from the well is pure. There was probably some infiltration from construction areas," he continued.

Construction in the city's water distribution system in the past year has covered much of the annexed area in the city as well as Cedar Point and replacement of the main water line on Main Street.

The unacceptable water samples were taken in December and do not reflect the current status of the water, he said.

The notice was sent to consumers to comply with a federal law which requires notification when national established guidelines are not met by a water distribution system.

Redmond emphasized that the six samples did not constitute a violation of the Clean Water Act.

A violation occurs only when the standards are not reached within a certain period of time.

"The city of Bay St. Louis has never violated the act during the four years that I have been in charge of the city utilities and only twice during that time have there been unacceptable samples taken," Redmond said.

"And the first time there were unacceptable bacteriological levels in water samples it was because not enough water samples were taken," he said.

The number of samples taken, sampling procedure, new construction, time frame of sampling and laboratory procedures can all affect the outcome of the bacteriological levels in the samples, Redmond said.

Coast economic developers to seek prospects

Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties in cooperation with the Mississippi Department of Economic Development and Mississippi Power Company will engage in a prospect development mission in California, Mar. 7 through 13.

After several months of planning and organizing, the group targeted companies in 15 California counties resulting in a direct mail effort to over 3,700 businesses.

The direct mail campaign featured a letter of invitation from Governor Ray Mabus which points out that state government has a mandate from the people of Mississippi to make things happen economically.

Governor Mabus' letter further states that a team of economic development professionals will make appointments, provide information on the many resources and benefits available to business and industry.

The targeting mechanism used by the group was to establish specific parameters on company size and sales volume in combination with compatibility with Gulf Coast resources and proximity to markets. Some 40 companies will be visited by team members to introduce them to the benefits of locating facilities on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

This cooperative effort is one of four specific agenda items on the Tri-County Economic Development Agencies program of work for the 1987-88 fiscal year.

The Tri-County Association has already begun a nation-wide advertising campaign highlighting resources available on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

A direct mail campaign is planned to begin in May of 1988 providing for a mail-out to over 30,000 companies in North America.

Additionally, the Tri-County group is developing a brochure extolling the virtues of the Mississippi Gulf Coast as an outstanding place to live and work which will be used for presentation purposes and in other Gulf Coast marketing efforts.

Jim Herring endorses Dole presidential candidacy

Senator Robert Dole's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination has received the endorsement of Canton attorney Jim Herring.

Herring, last year's Republican nominee for Mississippi Attorney General, has served as Mississippi Co-Chairman of the Reagan-Bush campaign in 1984. In addition to the endorsement, he will be joining Senator Dole's State Steering Committee headed by Louis Wise.

In endorsing Dole's Presidential bid, Herring said, "While I think all the Republican Presidential candidates offer far more viable solutions to America's problems than any of the Democratic contenders, I believe that Bob Dole most clearly offers the leadership qualities our country needs.

"Through conversations with both Senator and Mrs. Dole, I am convinced of the sincerity and wisdom of his policies regarding a strong national defense and aid to the freedom fighters of Central America, and I'm further impressed by his combination of fierce party loyalty tempered with sound, independent judgment.

AARP Regional meetings set

Helen Underwood, assistant state director, AARP Region 5, Mississippi, announces a meeting for officers and committee chairpersons of the Region's AARP Chapters and RTA Units, Monday, Mar. 7 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Best Western Inn Hwy. 90, Gulfport. And Wednesday, Mar. 9 during similar hours at the Peddlers Inn, Hwy. 11 across from Cloverleaf Mall, Hattiesburg.

Sandwiches will be prepared for lunch. Other members of the Chapters and Units are invited to this orientation and training program.

Charles Lippian, State Legislative member AARP Region 5, encourages each chapter and Unit officers and committee chairpersons and other members to share in this very important learning of procedures, programs and legislative priorities, particularly during this year's legislative session."

Senate Bill No. 2051 is an Act to create Section 25-11-141, Mississippi Code of 1972, to provide, within the Public Employees' Retirement System, A Group Life and Health Benefit Plan for Retired Public Employees, cited Lippian.

S.B. 2051 was endorsed by the Mississippi Retired Teachers Association, the State Legislative Committee of AARP—Mississippi and by the Trustees of the Mississippi Public Employees Retirement System.

The bill was introduced by Montgomery, Dewese and Crahan and is now on the Senate Calendar. Public employees are encouraged to support this legislation by contacting their legislators, Lippian said.

Moran attends briefing

Phyllis Moran of Bay St. Louis attended the annual American Legion Auxiliary Awareness Assembly in Washington, D.C., Feb. 28 through Mar. 2.

During the legislative briefing, auxiliary members met with President Ronald Reagan, visited Congressional leaders and were briefed on matters of concern such as AIDS developments, hospice as a growing health care concept and U.S.-Soviet relations.

The American Legion Auxiliary is a one-million member patriotic organization, the largest in the world. Mrs. Moran is a member of Unit No. 139 in Bay St. Louis and is serving as State President.

Girl Scout cookie sale to close

Girl Scout cookie time will come to a close on Saturday, Mar. 5.

Many troops in this area have been busy selling cookies for the past two weeks but still have extra boxes of cookies for sale.

Proceeds from the sale help troops fund special activities and projects such as field trips and service projects for the community.

In 1987, Girl Scout troops in South Mississippi earned $99,000 for their troop activities with the purchase of Girl Scout cookies.

Call 467-0952 for the phone number of a Girl Scout troop with extra boxes of cookies.

TO ALL THE PROGRESS EDITION PARTICIPANTS

A Message From The Publisher:

I would like to extend my gratitude and congratulations to all the participants of the 1988 Progress Edition. Your efforts in submitting information for the stories and your representation through advertising made this community effort a tremendous success.

This Progress Edition will not only be seen by the local community, but by those who are interested in relocating to Hancock County through distribution by the Chamber of Commerce, the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, and others. The importance of the edition should not be ignored as it promotes progress and growth for Hancock County.

We look forward to working with you next year on our 1989 Progress Edition.

An organization working very hard for deserving folks in our area is the Hancock County Food Pantry.

During the months of January and February some 126 families, representing 447 people, received assistance from the Food Pantry.

As most of you know, the Food Pantry receives cash and donations of food from many of the area churches, schools, businesses and individuals as well as being an agency of the United Way.

The Food Pantry is located in the old jail at 129 Court Street, Bay St. Louis and is open 9 a.m. until noon Monday through Friday.

The volunteers who operate this very much needed community service are members of the many participating churches, and they do an outstanding job.

The requests for assistance have increased every month since the Food Pantry was established some 22 months ago.

Without cash and food donation support from the community the Food Pantry would never have been able to serve the 4,892 people during its existence.

The Food Pantry can always use more assistance in the way of cash or food donations.

Food items such as canned meats, tuna, canned milk, canned tomatoes, tomato sauce and paste, canned fruits, oatmeal, peanut butter and jelly, macaroni and cheese, flour, sugar, dry beans, rice, are always in need.

Some of the items one may not realize as important are bathroom tissue, hand soap, laundry and dish detergents.

We say thanks to everyone who has helped make the Hancock County Food Pantry successful and hope you will continue to give your support.

Attention: Rural America

With Super Tuesday just around the corner, more and more of the Presidential candidates are heading South. And while this is good, they better be prepared.

Recently Senator Thad Cochran and I joined together with our colleagues from the House and Senate to send a clear message to all the men running for President. We challenged each of them to develop a comprehensive rural development plan for the South and the country.

We also formed a bi-partisan Rural Development Task Force which will assist the candidates and the next President in formulating a national policy which takes into account the special concerns of the rural South—the most rural region of the country.

Quick campaign stops at the Jackson Municipal Airport won't suffice. To see the real South, these candidates will have to get out of their planes and take a good look around.

Vice-President Bush and Governor Dukakis, I hope you will understand that the South is by far the most rural region of our country—Senator Dole and Rep. Gephardt, 37 percent of the South's population resides in rural areas, compared to only 23 percent in the rest of the U.S.

Mr. Robertson and Sen. Simon, rural citizens comprise at least 30 percent of the population in every Southern state except Florida.

Rep. Kemp and Rev. Jackson,

Senators Gore and Hart, please understand that 79 percent of the South's counties are rural. By now, I hope we've got your attention.

So what will the candidates do with these facts? Well, I hope they will use them to formulate a problem-solving strategy.

We will need our next President's help. In some areas, employment figures are falling. The rural South is still heavily dependent on traditional manufacturing industries, some of which are now in long-term decline.

And health care facilities in rural America must be improved. Opportunities for rural housing must increase and there is plenty we can do to better our water and sewer systems. And of course we shouldn't forget about general economic development.

These are some of the areas that need addressing by the Congress, but more importantly by the next person to occupy the White House.

Over the next few days, we will hear the candidates talk about leading our country into the future. And that is great, as long as these men realize that the rural South plans to be a part, an integral part, of that forward progress.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

THE FIGHT AGAINST DRUG ABUSE MUST CONTINUE

Our nation's problems with drug abuse have been the focus of widespread attention in recent years. Alarming statistics of drug addiction and drug-related deaths have mobilized people in all walks of life to join in the fight against this destructive problem.

I take great pride in the numbers of our young people who are taking a stand against the use of illegal drugs. I am encouraged by the celebrities in entertainment, sports and political fields who are speaking out about the dangers of drug abuse. And I applaud our first lady, Nancy Reagan, who has been a fine leader in the fight to teach people to "just say no" to drugs. As the President said in his recent State of the Union address, she deserves the gratitude of our nation for her efforts.

The result of these combined efforts has been progress in the fight against drugs in our country. Recent studies indicate a trend away from illegal drug use among Americans. One study, for example, showed the first decline in a decade in the use of cocaine by high school seniors.

However, while we've seen progress, the fight is not over. We're only just beginning to reach the estimated 20 million marijuana users, 4 to 8 million cocaine abusers and 500,000 heroin addicts in our country.

A study just released by the Department of Justice makes our fight against drug abuse even more critical. The study showed clear links between the problems of crime and drugs, and ultimately, prison overcrowding.

The astounding study results showed that from half to three-fourths of men arrested for serious crimes in 12 major cities tested positive for recent use of illicit drugs. Justice department officials indicated that our nation must confront our drug problem if we are going to do anything about the crime rate across the nation.

In addition to its impact on the crime rate, drug abuse is an overwhelming expense to the country. While the costs of rehabilitation programs and enforcement programs are high, the loss of young productive lives cannot be measured. Without a doubt, these are costs that we must eliminate.

Our continued work in this area is essential. We must continue to channel available resources into drug prevention programs and make individual commitments to this vital fight. We may have won a few battles in the war against drug abuse, but the fight must continue.

Dear Editor:

I was very impressed with the 1988 Progress Edition of The Sea Coast Echo. I enjoyed the articles, and I think it was a very innovative idea.

However, as a graduate of the Bay-Waveland School System and a member of the school community, I would like to voice my opinion on a matter that has disturbed me with each reading of your newspaper.

The Bay-Waveland community is a small community that is blessed with the advantage of several good school systems. As these systems constitute a cross section of our community, I feel it is the duty of The Sea Coast Echo to provide equal publicity to all systems. In my opinion, the Bay-Waveland School System has not been given equal time in your newspaper.

To cite an example, it would have been just as easy to photograph a Bay-Waveland school facility (a public facility) to accompany your photograph on the front page of the education section of Sunday's edition. Additionally, back issues with high school athletic coverage could also be cited as an example.

I realize that the manpower needed to cover all school systems is not always available. However, a simple phone call to each school campus once a week could provide your newspaper with some informative public interest articles. In turn, the people of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland community would be informed about their school's progress on an equal basis.

Food Pantry reports record use, supplies dwindling

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

The number of families being referred to the Hancock County Food Pantry each month is rapidly increasing. Since the opening of the food pantry, through December, 1987, a period of 20 months, a total of 1,213 families, 4,345 persons were provided with an emergency supply of food.

In January and February of 1988, a total of 126 families, 447 people have been referred and given assistance.

The consistent help that has been received from so many of you who are regular contributors of food and cash is very sincerely appreciated. The pantry would not have been able to assist so many needy families without your contributions.

In our area, however, there is the problem of increasing unemployment. Because of this situation more help is needed and a plea for additional donations of food and cash must be made in order to successfully continue the work of the pantry.

The food items which are especially needed are canned meats and tuna, canned milk, canned tomatoes and tomato sauce, canned fruits, oatmeal, peanut butter and jelly, macaroni and cheese, flour and sugar and dry beans and rice, bathroom tissue, hand soap and laundry and dish detergents.

Donations of food, checks and cash may be brought to your church or the food pantry, which is located in the old jail. Checks may also be mailed to 129 Court Street.

May God bless you for your compassion for those less fortunate families in our country.

Sport fishing ignored as major Coast tourist attraction

To The Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

All the frantic rhetoric regarding Gulf Coast tourism completely ignores what a lot of visitors want—sport fishing.

It prompted me to move to the Coast 40 years ago.

The so-called managers of the salt water fisheries completely ignore the sport fisherman.

All of their decisions are in favor of the commercial interests.

They must know that gill nets and trammel nets are rapidly depleting the fish.

For instance, these supposedly intelligent board members voted to allow crab fishermen to trap female blue crabs with eggs, kill the eggs by cutting them off, and then sell the female crabs!

Think—if the poultry producers smashed all of the eggs as they rolled off the conveyor, then slaughtered the hens, how long do you think it would take to run out of chickens?

The State of Mississippi is not capable of managing one of its most valuable resources—the Gulf Coast fisheries!

In order to preserve salt water fishing from extinction, the State of Mississippi needs to—

- Place a moratorium on gill nets in the three Coast Counties.
- Shorten the shrimping season. Give shrimp a chance to grow.
- Increase the mesh size of shrimp trawls.
- Absolutely prohibit the taking of female crabs with eggs.
- Establish a salt water fishing license.
- Substantially increase license fees on commercial fishing.

Sincerely,
Joe Servat

National Committee to preserve Social Security and Medicare criticizes both Congressional committee, SSA

WASHINGTON, D.C.—James Roosevelt Jr., representing both his father and the five million-member National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare today have aimed strongly-worded criticism at both the House Ways and Means Committee and the Social Security Administration for creating and perpetuating the Social Security benefits issue known as the "notch."

Roosevelt told the Senate Special Committee on Aging he is convinced that the notch never would have occurred if Congress had been given the facts when Social Security amendments were passed in 1977.

To correct an earlier error in the benefit formula, both Ways and Means and the Social Security Administration urged Congress to adopt legislation they promised would amount to benefit reductions of no more than one percent a year for five years, Roosevelt reminded the Senate. Instead, benefits were cut by as much as twenty percent for seniors born after 1917.

"What's worse, instead of admitting that an error in the new formula existed, the Ways and Means Committee and the Social Security Administration have perpetrated the notch by denying that it exists," said Roosevelt. "A mountain of evidence indicates that the notch has caused average benefit losses of $660 a year for about 10 million current retirees and that it will affect, to a lesser degree, another ten million retirees in the next five years," he added.

The National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare has no argument with the intent of the 1977 amendments, just with the actual consequences, Roosevelt testified. "The intent of the 1977 amendments was correct and it would have been apparent to all that the formula was flawed and the intent perverted—if there had not been a cover-up of the actual benefit reductions suffered by millions of seniors."

Roosevelt labeled a red-herring the charge by some senior groups that notch victims were "greedy" for wanting to equal benefit levels of so-called "bonanza babies" (those born between 1912-1916). "The Sanford/Ford legislation to correct the notch will not bring notch victims up to the 1912-1916 level but will restore the intent of the 1977 amendments by leveling out benefits for everyone else."

Roosevelt brought charts to the hearing showing that outlays from the Social Security Trust Funds to correct the notch would not jeopardize the surpluses being built up for the retirement of babyboomers. He testified that a correction of the notch would mean a Trust Fund surplus of $1.2 trillion instead of $1.3 trillion by the year 2060.

Roosevelt also criticized other senior citizen groups for not investigating the true impact of the 1977 Social Security amendments. "They have taken as an article of faith, the pronouncements of the Social Security Administration instead of listening to their own members."

Written testimony submitted by the National Committee pointed out that in 1986, delegates to the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) national convention overwhelmingly voted to support a legislative correction of the notch but that their resolution had been ignored by the AARP Washington leadership.

Accompanying Roosevelt at the witness table were sisters Audrey Webb and Edith Detviller who came to Washington from Minnesota to testify. Although they started working on the same day at the same company in the same job and retired 25 years later with nearly identical wage records, Edith Detviller receives Social Security benefits 20.3 percent lower than her sister's.

ETV Brief

MONROE COUNTY

"Farmweek" flocks to Monroe County to explore one of the alternative ways landowners enrolled in the federal conservation reserve program can generate immediate extra income when the Mar. 7 edition airs at 7:30 p.m. on Mississippi ETV.

Ralph Brassett and the "Farmweek" cameras look at the quail hunting preserve that "Bud" and Patsy Stevens of Monroe County have created to make use of row crop land that they have taken out of production as part of the conservation program.

This new approach represents one of the ways farmers and landowners can continue to generate income on the land during its 10-year enforced dormancy.

A production of Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, "Farmweek" provides up-to-the-minute farm market analysis, price information, crop updates and local and national agricultural news.

Expert cautions growers about low-level drug use

By Barry W. Jones
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

A veterinarian representing a major pharmaceutical supplier for the animal industry cautioned Mississippi pork producers here to use care in applying low-level antibiotics if they want continued access to them.

Dr. J.C. Downing, director of veterinary and technical services for Pfizer Inc., told the annual meeting of the Mississippi Pork Producers Association that misuse of low-level antibiotics as food supplements or additives may mean "no use" for swine operations in the future.

The veterinarian, who works in Pfizer's agricultural division, said 1988 could be a year of decision as it relates to the use of low-level antibiotics in animal production.

"We all know that there are consumer groups clamoring for an outright ban on the use of all low-level antibiotics," Downing said.

Downing said consumer complaints about use of drugs in animals operates on the theory that antibiotics used in animals at low-levels and over long periods can promote bacterial resistance, be transferred to humans and cause human disease.

Downing reported that recent consumer complaints about pork have centered on at least two outbreaks of salmonella poisoning in humans that were traced directly back to specific swine operations in the Midwest. He said neither of the claims made by these studies have held up under close examination, and that other industry studies have shown no conclusive link between the use of low-level antibiotics in animals and human disease.

"I don't personally think these low-level drugs will be taken off the market, but it is harder to get approval these days," Downing said.

Downing said the guidelines pharmaceutical companies must follow to get approval are not impossible to meet, but he said the expense involved will mean that only the largest manufacturers will continue to market the drugs.

Downing also cited research studies, completed on the producer side of the spectrum over the past 10 years, demonstrate the beneficial use of low-level antibiotics, particularly in young pigs. He said the drugs have been effective as both a disease preventative and as a growth stimulator.

"Young pigs respond to low-level antibiotics," Downing said. "Their immune systems are not fully developed, so if we can control diseases in this critical period, we can help growth."

On the misuse issue, Downing warned producers to stay clear of four areas of antibiotic use in order to avoid problems with the Food and Drug Administration. The areas Downing cited are: (1) feeding the antibiotics to unapproved species,

(2) feeding unapproved combinations of antibiotics, (3) feeding above approved levels and (4) feeding the antibiotics beyond established withdrawal periods.

"I think antibiotics will continue to be used, but they may not be used in the animal industry as extensively as they once were," Downing said.

The veterinarian also told producers that biotechnology is going to have a large controversial impact on the way they produce livestock in the future. He said the impact will come through many new products including vaccines, growth promoters, diagnostic and therapeutic aids.

"These products will replace some of the low level antibiotics we now use," he said. "Biotechnology will help us alter the fat-to-lean ratio in pork and help us give the housewife what she wants."

In other action, the Pork Producers Association elected officers for 1988. New officers include Larry Jones of Puckett, president; Wiley Bean of Mantachie, first vice president; Bob King of Conehatta, second vice president; and Allan Kent of Okolona, treasurer. Dr. Jim Shannon, a swine specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, Starkville, was renamed as executive secretary.

The Power of Comparative Shopping

Shopping for a new electric appliance? If so, your member-owned Electric Power Association has a suggestion. While you're comparing features and sizes and colors, be sure to compare Energy Efficiency Ratings, too. True, you may have to pay a bit more for an energy-efficient model, but the savings on your monthly electric bill will more than make up the difference. And when it comes to spending more or less for electricity, there's no comparison.

Slidell's Regional Women's Center specializes in female health

As educated health care consumers, women are making informed choices about their health care today. At Slidell Memorial Hospital, the Regional Women's Center offers North Shore and Gulf Coast area women a special place of their own.

Here, women of all ages find the services, medical staff and atmosphere that make them feel secure and comfortable. Located in the new wing of the hospital, the Women's Center provides maternity and gynecological service, as well as a Resource Suite that helps answer the many questions women have about their health.

Mammography examinations and osteoporosis screening are also part of the Regional Women's Center, providing diagnostic services especially to meet the needs of area women.

Low-dose mammography examinations can pinpoint breast cancer in its early stages, offering women more choices than ever about treatment for this widespread disease. Osteoporosis, too, can help women identify problems while there is still time to reduce the effects of the disease.

At the Resource Suite, women can browse through pamphlets and brochures that answer the questions women have about their health care needs. Videotapes on many surgical procedures are available, as are tapes of seminars previously held in the Suite.

The Suite also is home to the Slidell Chapter of the Women's Health Foundation, a statewide organization that fosters information on women's health issues. Local groups may use the Suite for meetings or other activities.

For maternity patients, the Regional Women's Center offers a veritable buffet of choices about the delivery of their child. Women may choose specially-designed labor, Delivery and Recovery Rooms (LDR's) or the traditional labor and delivery areas. LDR's allow women the freedom to labor, deliver and recover from the birth all in the same, homelike room. The LDR concept encourages family members to participate in this special occasion and provides a comfortable, yet safe delivery alternative unavailable anywhere else on the North Shore.

After the birth, new mothers can choose to room in with their newborn around the clock, or only during the day.

Special one price delivery packages offer families the added comfort of knowing their special delivery will be affordable. Special touches include a beeper for Dad during the last month of pregnancy, an infant car seat, 20 hours of a Mother's helper after the family returns home, and a visit by your nurse the week after the delivery.

The neonatal Intensive Care Unit at Slidell Memorial Hospital offers advanced level intensive care for the one in 20 newborns who need extra special care.

Beginning Sewing for Adults

A seven-part beginning sewing series is being taught on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9 to 11:30 a.m. at the Hancock County Extension Office, 725-A Dunbar Ave., Bay St. Louis.

Participants must bring their own sewing machine, be familiar with its operation and purchase materials used in the class.

For more information and to register call Darlene Underwood, Extension Home Economist, 467-5456.

Cutting Corners—Cutting corners is a way of sewing more quickly. Organization is the key to "cutting corners" when you are sewing. Have a permanent area in which to sew that includes your sewing machine, ironing board and sewing equipment.

Think about your sewing project before you begin. Plan ahead. Know what you are going to do.

Do flat construction as much as possible; such as inserting the zipper while the section is flat or attaching the collar and sleeves before stitching side seams.

Hints—Use a high intensity lamp at your sewing table. Tape a paper bag to your sewing table for "trims." Glue a tape measure to your sewing table for quick measurements. A divided silverware tray is a good organizer for notions used at the sewing machine. Clip threads as you sew. Pre-wash all washable fabrics (fashion fabrics, lining, interfacing), zippers and trims.

General—A wrist pin cushion is handy and easy to find. Throw away needles and pins that burr or those that are bent—don't ruin a garment. Fill several bobbins of frequently used colors of thread. Use a cutting board. It has a large surface and you can pin into it. Substitute ribbons for ties that must be stitched and turned. Use a bodkin to thread elastic. To pull out sharp corners use a threaded needle. Insert needle in corner, grasp threads and gently pull. Use tweezers for removing threads. Sharpen shears by cutting through fine sandpaper. Do not use on serrated edges. Shorten flared skirt pattern by cutting 1/4 of the way in on each side, fold in, then fold up. Put clipping scissors on a cord—wear around your neck. Place straight seams on the salvage of woven fabrics, when possible. This eliminates seam finishes.

If you have difficulty threading needles—buy the self-threading ones. When clipping to stitching, place a pin on stitching—then you can't clip too far. Protect the points of your scissors and shears—use an eraser or a cork over the end.

Have a smoother waistline on a belted dress with no waistline seam—attach an elastic circle at centers and side seam.

Put fingernail polish on ballpoint needles, so you can distinguish them from regular ones. Use a zipper foot for stitching-in-the-ditch.

Cutting—Cut several garments at one time while you have the cutting board out. Cut out everything at one time—your fashion fabric, interfacing and lining. You cannot be accurate when cutting out a garment with pinking shears—avoid them.

Fabric—When sewing on plaids or stripes—cut some details on the bias to eliminate matching, such as pockets, collar, yoke, bands or cuffs.

Lay slippery fabric over toweling or on carpet to prevent sliding when cutting out.

Weight down fabric instead of pinning to prevent distorting the grain or on fabrics that show pin marks. Before storing fabric, label with its width, yardage and care.

Quality fabric is easier to work with.

When sewing on a loopy fabric, tape end of presser foot, so it won't catch in the loops.

Stretch knits slightly as you sew, especially when sewing on vertical seams.

To save time, cut out simple dress patterns that have few seams or unlined blouses. Store patterns by type and type of garment in case in locating. For setting a sharp crease on pleat use 2 tablespoons vinegar to 2 cups water. Use to wet dress cloth. Be sure to test on a small area. Press creases in pants before stitching seams. Fold each crease in half.

February 23, 1988

Dear Friend and Fellow Mississippian:

I served in state government for many years and I know how important it is to have a working relationship with our Federal Representatives.

For that reason, I am very pleased to recommend Congressman Wayne Dowdy as our next United States Senator.

Congressman Dowdy is a fine public servant who has represented his district honorably and effectively during this decade. This experience will make him especially effective in the Senate.

He is attuned to the needs and problems facing retirees. He has been with us 100% of the time on issues in Congress.

More than that, he is a man who wants our views and our input on these important matters. He has never lost touch with the people who sent him to Washington.

We are very fortunate to have this fine man offering for this important office. I urge you to support Wayne Dowdy as our next United States Senator.

Sincerely

Heber Ladner

Pass Christian presents 58th Annual Ball

St. Paul's Auditorium was the scene on Saturday night of the 58th Annual Mardi Gras Ball. The decorations reflected the theme "Gotta Have Heart."

A white double throne was placed in front of a diorama backdrop of red, white and silver entwined hearts.

Four large golden cupids held candelabras filled with slender white tapers. Large potted greenery completed the stage decor. The ceilings of the auditorium was a sea of red and white balloons.

Tables covered with crisp, white cloths held balloons, filled gold crowns. Decorations were done under the direction of Vicki Starita.

Maid and dukes entered through an archway of larger-than-life Mardi Gras masks decorated with blue, red, green and gold streamers.

Maid and Dukes were Deborah Adam escorted by Richard Adam, Susan Genin escorted by Alvin Genin, Lorraine Pickich escorted by Jerry Pickich, Jeanne Anne Schults escorted by Wayne Hightower, Bridget Ulrich escorted by Don Sessum, and Vicki Starita escorted by Dane Jenkins.

Grand Duke was Courtenay Hanson; Grand Duchess, Mrs. Doris Flettrich.

They were presented by the Ball Captain whose identity remains a secret.

Introducing the court was Master of Ceremonies Billy McDonald.

King Christian LVIII, Grady (Buddy) Scarborough and his Queen Christiana, Mrs. Patricia Erwin Terrell greeted his majesty King Christian LVIII, Rimmer Covington.

Covington, resplendent in a red velvet costume. The tunic was encrusted with sequins and rhinestones and trimmed with white mink. Red tights and chrome shoes completed the outfit. His majesty wore the traditional mantle of Christian which features the organization's logo in precious stones on the back, and trimmed with white mink and silver braiding.

Mr. Covington is married to the former Elizabeth Mosby. They are the parents of three children. His parents are the late George Covington and Mrs. Janie Wray. Mr. Covington is a member of St. Paul's Carnival Association, Seafood Festival Committee, the Msgr. Leach Council of the Knights of Columbus. He is a certified Professional Landman.

Escorting her majesty Queen Christiana, Mrs. Laura McDonald Pickich, was her husband, Thomas Pickich. They are the parents of three children. The queen is the daughter of Mrs. Hazel McDonald and Elliot McDonald. She is a Pass Christian native and active in church and school affairs.

As queen, Mrs. Pickich wore a white satin gown, made along princess' lines, the bodice of the gown was heavily beaded with pearls and rhinestones. She wore the traditional mantle of Queen Christiana of purple velvet edged in white mink and multi-colored semi-precious stones, it too features the "Jarnival Orga" zatio logo of twin seahorses on the back.

Pages to the King were: Patrick Cousins, Rimmer Covington, Thomas Genin and Victor Pickich. Little Maids to the Queen were: Elizabeth Byrne, Annie Flettrich, Pat Kinney and Kristen Penicaro. Music for the ball was provided by "Cabaret" of New Orleans.

Dowdy boasts favorable rating on SS vote record

Winding up his primary campaign for the United States Senate, Congressman Wayne Dowdy reminded voters that he has been awarded a 100 percent favorable rating for his votes in support of Social Security and Medicare.

Dowdy, who has served in Congress since 1981, was given the Golden Age Guardian Award for his 100 percent favorable voting record by the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare. The Committee is headed by James Roosevelt, the son of Social Security founder President Franklin Roosevelt.

"In every instance since my election to Congress, I have voted to protect Social Security and Medicare. I am proud of my strong, positive record in behalf of senior citizens. I want to continue working in their behalf in the United States Senate," Dowdy said.

Dowdy's name will appear on the ballot in the Mar. 8 Democratic Primary.

There's good news today for meat lovers, as delineated in a new cookbook, "Eating Meat and Staying Healthy"—A Post-Nouvelle cookbook by Josephine Bacon (Hardcover, Barron's Hauptage, N.Y., $19.95).

This cookbook reflects a growing trend in the eyes of many dieticians; that hearty and appetizing red meat is perfectly compatible with healthful eating, when correctly prepared and eaten in moderation, says the author, who is a well known nutritionist.

With step-by-step instructions for buying, cooking and serving all kinds of meat; tips for reducing the fat content, and advice on the leanest, most healthful cuts, the book offers easily prepared dishes from around the world.

But this is far more than a meat cookbook exclusively. Bacon stresses the importance of balanced meals, and the use of vegetables, rice, grains, etc., along with the meat course for tasty and healthful dining.

Valuable cooking tips are scattered throughout, for low or no-salt cooking, substitution of sour flavors (lemon, grapefruit, etc., for salty flavors, and so forth.

The cook is advised, of course, to cut away the fat from beef and pork and chicken and lamb. There's a recipe for leg of lamb roasted with coffee; for turkey with cherries, for a low calorie mayonnaise made with yogurt.

Tofu is used in some of the recipes, with the author's wry comment that "it's too useful to be left only to the vegetarians." And, there's an interesting recipe for:

KLEPTIKO or RUSTLER'S LAMB

Old-time sheep rustlers had to cook their meat ever so carefully to prevent the cooking smells from escaping and giving the game away! So, they wrapped the meat in leaves and buried it in a pit lined with hot coals.

In this modern-day version, the meat is wrapped in foil and cooked in the oven, sealing in the goodness without added fat. You'll need:

2 shank or knuckle ends of lamb (4½ lbs.)
8 sprigs thyme
8 bay leaves
Juice and rind of one lemon

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Lay the lamb ends on two large sheets of foil. Place 4 thyme sprigs and 4 bay leaves on each. Divide the strips of lemon rind between them, wrapping around meat. Sprinkle lemon juice on each, and wrap meat into neat packages, leaving a little room inside for the buildup of steam.

Put the packages in the center of the oven and cook for two hours. Remove one, opening very carefully to avoid scalding yourself with the steam, and stick fork or skewer into the center. When the juices run clear, the meat is done. Discard thyme, bay leaves and lemon and serve. (Eight servings)

SSC opens season with 10-3 victory over Biloxi

Sophomore pitcher Cedric Smith struck out 10 Biloxi hitters in going the distance as St. Stanislaus soundly defeated the visiting Biloxi Indians, 10-3, in a high school baseball game Tuesday afternoon at the Rockachaw diamond. Smith had offensive help from several Rockachaws, as SSC scored ten runs on seven hits. Shane Sigsworth paced the Rocks with two timely hits, a double and a single, and scored a run for the Rockachaws. "It was a great team effort," said Rockachaw head coach Mike Gemelli. "I was pleased to see how well we played together as a team."

"It looked like, in the beginning, we were a little in awe of Biloxi. They always field a great baseball team, and they are supposed to have one of the best catchers in the state," said Coach Gemelli. "But we hit the ball well, and I think we played good, disciplined baseball. Our mistakes were kept to a minimum, and we had our heads in the game."

Solid performances were given by Greg Schruft at second base, who helped turn two double plays. Schruft found a way to get on base all three times he was at bat, and scored three runs.

Junior third-baseman Marc Matherne also provided power and leadership for the Rocks. Shortstop Scott Heitzmann had a good day, and initiated one of the double plays. One of the keys to the Rockachaw success was the bottom third of their lineup. Yasin Shabazz, Greg Schruft, and Shane Sigsworth accounted for six of the Rockachaw runs.

Smith looked strong on the mound, scattering six hits among the Indians. None of the Biloxi batters were able to hit Smith's curveball. As the game progressed, fans could see the emotion draining from the Biloxi team, as the Rockachaws continued to gain confidence.

The Rocks resume play this Saturday in the Long Beach Tournament at Long Beach field. SSC plays Picayune at 4 p.m., then follows with a game against Long Beach at 6:30 p.m.

SSC senior class plans benefit run

The Bay Bridge Run, a 5K race sponsored by St. Stanislaus Senior Class 12C to benefit Foreign Missions of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, will be run Saturday, Mar. 12 at 9 a.m. Shuttle bus will take runners to the starting point at Diamondhead. Free T-shirt for the first 100 runners. Entry Fee: $5. For registration by mail write to Bay Bridge Run 304 S. Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, (601) 467-9057. Race day registration will be from 7:30-8:30 a.m. in front of St. Stanislaus.

Parks and Playgrounds commission seeking summer job applicants

The Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission is now accepting applications for summer workers. Frank Pernicaro, director, said resumes from youth interested in summer jobs with the Parks and Playgrounds Commission will be accepted through Friday, March 11 at 5 p.m. Resumes should be mailed to P. O. Box 307, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521 or delivered to Pernicaro.

Social security numbers must be included on the resume and applicants should be at least 16 years old and a full time student. Information on how to contact the applicant should also be included.

The jobs will include grass cutting and parks and playgrounds maintenance. The hours will range from 20 to 30 hours per week and the jobs will begin in late March continuing through July. Workers will be paid $3.35 per hour. Contact Pernicaro, 467-5626 for additional information.

Heart Association golf festival set for May 13 at Diamondhead

The fourth annual Hancock County Heart Association Golf Festival has been set for May 13. According to Harold Olsen, publicity chairperson, the rain date for the event will be May 20. At a recent planning meeting for the event, festival committee members set a goal of $15,000 for the fundraiser. Last year, the golf festival netted $12,000 for the American Heart Association. The festival will include several events with prizes, including a trip to Copenhagen, Denmark. Anyone who would like to volunteer to help with the project or who need more information can call Stephen Planchard, chairman, at Hancock Bank, 467-5431.

SSC/OLA wins tennis opener

The SSC/OLA Tennis Team got off to a booming start by defeating a persistent Moss Point High team Thursday in Moss Point. The varsity competition was swept by SSC/OLA by a 5-0 score. In Boys Singles, SSC's Pat Fellows was a big winner over Mike Cronin, 6-0, 6-4. Cynthia Martinolich, OLA, was victorious over Jennifer Steele in a suspenseful 6-4, 6-4 encounter.

In Boys Doubles it was the seventh-grade tandem of Myron Labat and Manuel Gonzalez, SSC, winning easily by a 6-2, 6-0 score. The Girls Doubles team of Shannon Maggio and Betsy Boyce, OLA, overcame their opponents by a 6-2, 6-3 score. Terry LeBourgeois and Liz Haas really had to hustle to pull off a 2-6, 6-2, 6-0 victory in "A" Mixed Doubles. The SSC/OLA "B" also tallied some impressive match scores, winning by an overall 7-1 score. The team next will play Hancock North Central at Diamondhead's Tennis World on Tuesday, March 1 and will host perennial powerhouse Gulfport High on Wednesday, also at Diamondhead.

ALL SMILES are Cynthia Martinolich who won the number one singles match 6-4, 6-4 and Monica Montagnet, a parent who helps with the OLA tennis team. St. Stanislaus Coach Myron Labat and Our Lady Academy Coach Harry Hull conduct separate team practice. The next two matches will be at Diamondhead Tennis World against Gulfport High School and Hancock North Central.

OUR LADY ACADEMY and St. Stanislaus High School play as a combined team locally but qualify for the Mississippi State High School Tennis Tournament as separate teams. The first match of the season was away at Moss Point Public High School. Liz Haas and Terry LeBourgeois won the number one mixed doubles 6-4, 6-0. Haas is in the ready position while partner LeBourgeois hits a backhand volley.

At-Black Heritage Program

Jesse Owens' Olympic performance cited as first forecast of Hitler's downfall

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

A St. Stanislaus High School senior took the Overall Best Award at Saturday's NAACP Black Heritage Program in Bay St. Louis with an outstanding presentation of original material on the Black track and field star Jesse Owens.

YaSin Shabazz, a talented and versatile athlete in his own right, brought new meaning to the 1936 Olympic performance in which Owens captured four gold medals. Shabazz cited Owens' "purity" as an athlete who performed for the sake of the sport and the games, with no self-interest or self-aggrandizement influencing his participation.

Coincidentally, Shabazz criticized the "commercialism" of today's Olympic Games and the athletes who compete in them.

With the 1936 Olympic Games being staged in Berlin, the capital of Hitler's Nazi Germany, Shabazz feels, Owens' accomplishments were the earliest indication that the Fuhrer's dreams were doomed.

"Jesse Owens proved at the 1936 Olympics that Hitler's dream that Germany would be populated solely by a superior Aryan race which would rule the world was fallible—Jesse foretold the downfall of Hitler," Shabazz said.

In addition to a $25 cash Best Overall Award, Shabazz also won a first-place trophy in the 16- to 19-year-old division of Saturday's competition sponsored by the Hancock County Branch-NAACP and the Iota Upsilon Chapter-Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

The competition—consisting of biographical presentations on significant "Black Americans"—was staged at St. Rose Parish Cafeteria in Bay St. Louis.

Other first place trophy winners are Tesla Lee in the 9- to 12-year-old division and Gary Hall in the 13- to 15-year-old division.

Lee, a sixth grader at Bay Catholic Elementary, discussed the contributions of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall.

Hall outlined the exploits of Harriet Tubman, who personally escorted more than 300 slaves to freedom.

Certificates were awarded by NAACP Branch President Marilyn Smith to the other nine participants in the program.

They include Emleigh Jacobs, Chari Lee, Wali Shabazz, Anita Twigg, Paxton Jamie Parker, Janet Newkirk, D'Arcy Raboteaux, Querita Harris and Kimberly Harris.

Their presentations were judged on poise, delivery and content.

Competition judges included Joan Thomas, Alphonse Sheppard, Frank Cain, Hazel Breau and Edgar Perez.

Mistress of ceremonies was Ms. Mary Clark, branch secretary.

Entertainment was provided by vocal soloist Deborah Deloach, the Youth Choir of First Southern Baptist Church and by The Ebony Pearls.

Guest speakers included Earl Harris, Donald Morgan of Waveland, Thomas P. Clark and Father Sebastian.

Seashore opens new headquarters

Gulf Islands National Seashore's new Visitor Center and Administrative Headquarters will be opened to the public on Tuesday at 10 a.m., Superintendent Jerry Eubanks has reported.

The new building complex is located in the Naval Live Oaks Area of the Seashore, east of Gulf Breeze, Fla. along U.S. Hwy. 98 south of Pensacola and features a number of new facilities including a 7,000 square foot Visitor Center/Headquarters building.

The building houses the Seashore's administrative offices in one wing and the Visitor Center in another portion of the building.

The Visitor Center portion of the structure features exhibits on the resources of the National Seashore, with special emphasis on the role Live Oaks played in the development of shipbuilding in the United States.

In addition to the exhibits, the Visitor Center houses a sales and visitor information area, and an auditorium that will be used to show audio/visual programs illustrating the Seashore's resources.

Interpretive activities for the public scheduled on the opening day include a slide program, "Live Oaks for the Future" at 11 a.m., and 2:30 p.m. and an interpretive walk at 1 p.m.

The National Park Service development at Naval Live Oaks also includes trails and decks that provide visitors an excellent view of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and Santa Rosa Island, a picnic area with shelter, tables and comfort station and a youth group camping area located on the northside of the Naval Live Oaks Area.

All of the construction was done with a minimum of site disturbance in an effort to preserve as much of the natural and cultural setting as possible.

The Naval Live Oaks Area will be open daily from 8 a.m. to dusk. The Visitor Center will be open daily

Hunting, fishing experts to highlight Superdome Sportsmen's Show

Everything you need, to know about hunting and fishing along the Gulf Coast Area will be featured this year at the Ninth Annual Louisiana Sportsmen's Show according to Bob Del Giorno, show president.

"This year we have it all," Del Giorno said. "Most people want to enjoy fishing and hunting, but need to learn more, and that's what this show is all about."

Experts will be on hand throughout the show to demonstrate, and answer questions about the outdoors.

For the fisherman this year's program will feature Billy Murray's Bass Tank, filled with lunkers, where show goers can see for themselves how fish react to the presentation of baits and lures.

Bass seminars this year will be conducted by fishing pro's Billy Murray, Bill Westmorland, and Mike Scambray.

5K Run slated from Carey

HATTIESBURG—The 3rd Annual Gamma Chi 5K Run is scheduled for Saturday, Mar. 19 at 9 a.m., at William Carey College. The race, originally slated for Feb. 6, will begin and end on the Hattiesburg campus.

5K Run t-shirts will be available to those who pre-register. Trophies will be awarded to the top men's and women's finishers, and medals awarded to the top finishers in the under 15 and over 40 age groups. Refreshments will be provided.

Local sponsors include Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Deposit Guaranty National Bank, First Baptist Church, The Graphics Warehouse, The Institute for Wellness and Sports Medicine, Dr. J.V. McCrory, Pascale's Framing and Art, Unifirst Bank for Savings F.A., and the Y's Running Club.

Runners may pre-register by sending name, address, phone number, date of birth, t-shirt size, and registration fee of $7.50 to Shannon Robert, WCC Box 1291, Hattiesburg, MS 39401.

Runners may also register at 8:15 a.m. on the race day. The registration fee is $8.50.

Immediately after the 5K Run, there will be a one-mile Fun Run that will also begin and end on the Carey campus. The registration fee is $8.50.

For more information, contact Shannon Robert at 582-6366; or Terri Noonkester at 582-5051.

Even Jerry McKinnis ESPN's "Fishin' Hole" celebrity will be at the show on Wednesday and Thursday evenings to talk fishing with kids of all ages.

For fisherman who want to learn about the local hot spots, the area's top fishing guides will be on hand Wednesday thru Sunday.

They include Dave Ballay, Barry Bordelon, Blackie Campo, Charlie Hardison, Gawan DeBetta, Jimmy Dixon Sr., Calvin Dufrene, Johnny Glover, Bill Herrington, Stu Scheer, Steve Shook, Greg Walker, and others.

A must this year for all parents and children is a special seminar with Matt Deakins, founder of the Future Fisherman's Foundation, on "Getting Hooked on Fishing, Not Drugs." Matt will speak through experience to youngsters about the joys of the outdoors, and not drugs.

For the hunters this year, Paul Dubuisson local waterfowler will handle calling ducks and geese. Paul is an expert in his field and has been featured in numerous television programs on the subject.

He along with Don Berry from Bowhunters Haven, and Jerry Ockman from Primitive Arms, will conduct seminars Wednesday through Sunday.

With turkey season opening in March, again this year turkey calling will be presented by Huey Sanders.

Huey is one of the top callers in both Louisiana and Mississippi.

Highlighting Thursday evening's program will be the $2,000 Levi Garrett Turkey Calling Contest. Registration will be at the show, and calling will begin at 7 p.m. Judging will be conducted by Bob Clark from Levi Garrett.

Other activities include Berkly's Speed Cast Contest with WWL's Eddie Casteline, Coca-Cola's Boston Whaler Give-A-Way, demonstrations by the New Orleans Flyfishers, Pontchartrain Retriever Club, Hank Johnston the Boat Doctor, live animals from Audubon Zoo, and the Nature Center, and others.

Again this year as always, the Sportsmen's Show will feature more than 500 fishing tackle manufacturers and dealers offering discount prices on everything from equipment, boats, and trips. This is truly a one-stop opportunity to purchase everything for the outdoors for the 1988 season. Most dealers will accept major credit cards and checks.

Show hours are Wednesday and Thursday 4:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.; Saturday 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. and Sunday 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.

The Louisiana Sportsmen's Show is managed by Louisiana Sportsmen's Inc., Bob Del Giorno, president and founder; Joannie Del Giorno, vice-president; Vic Del Giorno, general manager, and Frank Johnston, marine division manager. This is the show's ninth year of operation in New Orleans.

New usage record set at Diamondhead Airport

A new record has been set for the number of aircraft using Diamondhead Airport.

Gene Phillips, fixed base operator for the facility, said there were 50 aircraft on the ground at the facility for most of the day Sunday.

"That is the first time since the airport opened in 1970 or 71 that we have ever had 50 aircraft on the ground at any one time," Phillips said.

"Our little traffic circle where they park the planes was completely full."

He said there are usually about 30 aircraft parked at the facility.

About 50 visiting aircraft came and went during the day, bringing the total number of individual planes using the airport to about 80, Phillips added.

"Between people practicing, taking their families and friends for rides and the ones that just made a stop there, we had several hundred take-offs and landings," he said.

Phillips attributed the new record to "pretty weather."

RUSHING THE SEASON—With Piha Boards and nerves of steel, four fearless youths set out to be the first to skim the Bay for 1988. Feb. 6 was sunny, but cold. One young man wore his long-johns under his shorts. Although they didn't stay long, they recorded the feat with photos. Ted Baker, Paul Koenig, Mike Morse and Micky Lagasse have set the pace for a fun-filled year of water sports in beautiful Bay St. Louis.

Special programs highlight month

A variety of special activities and programs are scheduled for March at Davis Bayou area of Gulf Islands National Seashore in Ocean Springs. Superintendent Jerry Eubanks said programs begin at 2 p.m. Sunday, Mar. 6, when a one-hour Cast Net Demonstration will be conducted at the fishing pier located south of the Visitor Center.

On Mar. 13 at 2 p.m., a park ranger will lead a Kid's Wilderness Survival Program. This one and one-half hour activity instructs children ages 5-12 and their parents on how to hike safely in the woods and what to do should they become lost in the woods.

A wildlife program, Animal Tracks, Traces and Trails, will begin on Mar. 20 at 2 p.m. Meet at the Visitor Center for the one and one-half hour program and join a park ranger on a trail to "hunt" the signs of bayou animals.

The special activities will conclude for the month of Sunday, Mar. 27 at 2 p.m. with Osprey—The Story of The Fish Hawk.

All activities are free of charge and open to the public. For more information on these and other interpretive activities available through the Davis Bayou area of Gulf Islands National Seashore, phone (601) 875-0821.

Sports Medicine hosts Crescent City Classic clinic

The Sports Medicine and Fitness Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital is offering free Crescent City Classic Running Clinics through April.

Last year, more than 26,000 participants registered for the 10K Crescent City Classic. The purpose of the Sports Medicine clinics, which began Saturday with more than 80 local runners on hand, is to give area residents the opportunity to learn as much as they can before the April 16 race.

"The Crescent City Classic is the fourth largest road race in the United States and since we're sure a large number of the participants are from the Northshore, we wanted to prevent people from having to go across the lake for these clinics," explained Janie Kuebel, Sports Medicine program coordinator.

The clinics are designed for both the experienced runner and beginner/walker, Kuebel added.

Dr. Kathleen McDonald, preventive medicine and nutrition specialist, will present "Fitness as a Lifestyle" March 5.

Dr. Thomas Dewey, director of Sports Medicine and Fitness Center, and New Orleans Saints trainer Dean Kleinschmidt will explain how to prevent and treat running injuries at the March 19 clinic. Dr. Dewey and Kleinschmidt were also the featured speakers in the introductory Crescent City Classic running clinic at the Sports Medicine Center on Jan. 31.

The final clinic will deal with "Running the Race: Psychological Aspects and Last-Minute Preparations." It will be held April 2 and is tentatively scheduled to be presented by Olympic silver medalist Wendy Sly, a past Crescent City Classic winner. Crescent City Classic representatives will also be on hand to address participants of this clinic.

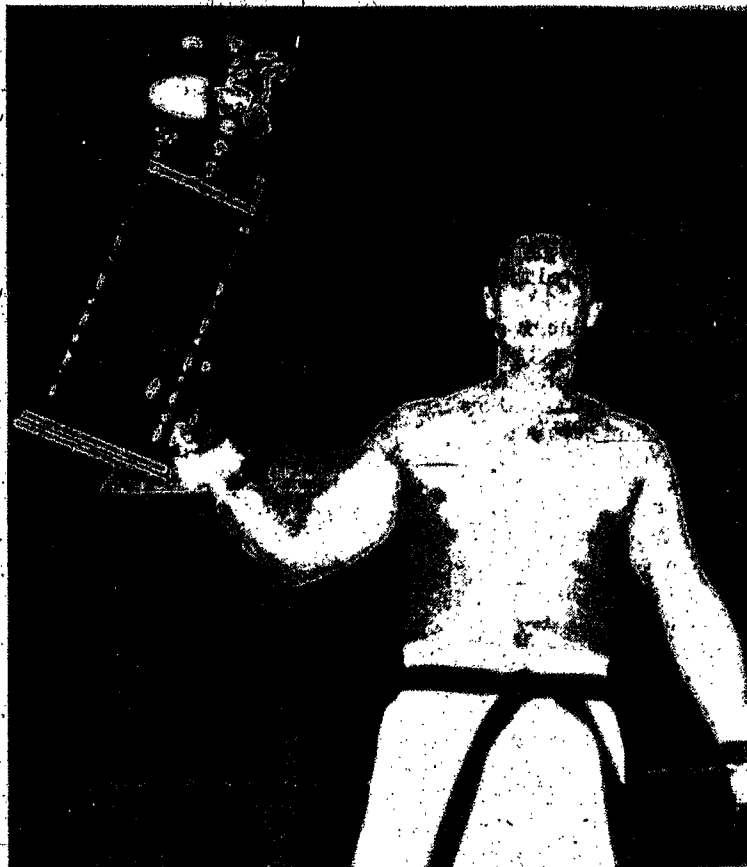

"We're hoping to get a lot of walkers and beginners," said Kuebel, "Those are the ones who really need this."

Tigers, Tigerettes end season with defeats in tournament play

The youthful and inexperienced Bay High Tigers and Tigerettes ended their seasons in the District 8, Division 16, 3A basketball tournament with losses to Stone County and Vancleave.

The Tigers, seeded third in the final district standings, were no match for the Stone County, second seeded and 11th ranked team in Mississippi, falling to the Tomcats 93-65.

The young Tigers put forth a good effort led by Benny Tillman with 20 points and Freddie Necaise with 14 points and eight rebounds.

Also contributing for Bay High was Micah Necaise with 13 points, Ronald Elzy with eight points and eight rebounds, Cedric Walker with eight points, and Will Seymour added two.

Stone County was led by Deon Jones with 29 points (including six three-point goals) and Johnathan Brown with 16 points and seven rebounds.

In the girls contest Bay High was defeated by the Vancleave Lady Bulldogs 49-30.

Bay High was led by Tunisia McKay with six points and seven rebounds, Dee Dee McGowan and Deborah Deloach added six points each while Lawonika Williams and Patrice Avery added eight and six rebounds, respectively.

Vancleave was led by Tish Harris with 19 points and eight rebounds while Mercia Payton pumped in 16 points in the winning effort.

Although failing to break the win column with the girls and only five victories with the boys squad, Coach Michael Ladner is very optimistic about the future.

"I believe both programs have a bright future with hard work and dedication from players and coaches and support from the student body. I am pleased with our accomplishments this year and I look for much better things next year," Ladner said.

Wildcats close basketball season

Pearl River was put out by Hinds in the first round of the Mississippi Junior College South Division Tournament, but Coach Peter Georgian and his Cats still registered a very solid year in '88.

In division play the Cats finished up with a 8-6 mark and their overall record was 12-10.

"We had our ups and downs," said Georgian, who is completing his second year at the Cats' helm. "We didn't play well in the South Tournament. I was really disappointed in our showing."

During the last week of regulation play, however, the Wildcats knocked off the then-undefeated Co-Lin Wolves and runner-up Gulf Coast.

In fact, Co-Lin eventually won the state championship, over previously undefeated Northeast. The Wolves are now 27-1.

"We had our moments during the year," said Georgian. "I guess you could say there were just not enough of them."

Picayune sophomore sensation Adrain McCray led the Wildcats in scoring with a 24-point average. Wes Dedeaux of Bay St. Louis was next with a 16.5 average.

Two Atlanta, Ga. natives also averaged in double figures. Wendell Carter netted 14 per game and Thomas Foster pitched in a dozen. Carter also led the team with eight rebounds per game, while McCray had six. Foster averaged nine assists per contest.

Bay Area Youth Soccer results listed

Bay Area Youth Soccer is approaching mid-season with only four weeks left to play in the regular spring season. Weather was pleasant for the weekend and exciting action continued on the soccer fields in all age groups.

SATURDAY FEB. 27

Under 12.
In under 12, The Burger King Whoppers lost to Hancock Bank 2-0. Coach Leo Laurent stated that "the team played well throughout the game, however, the defense was unable to contain the opponents forwards in the beginning of the game, but improved as the game progressed."

On Sunday afternoon, the Burger King Team lost 4-0 to CPC Design Hurricanes. Coach Laurent congratulated the entire team on a game well played. Goalie Kevin Watts was cited for excellent defense with many saves at the goal. Michael Perniclaro, Michael Sanders and Jerry Peoples were cited for excellent play. Take One Video continues to lead the Under 12 division undefeated.

Take One defeated Hancock Bank by a score of 2-0 on Sunday afternoon. Coach Bernard Tusa congratulated the entire team on a fine effort and on their excellent play in both games.

Under 10

In under 10 play, the K-Mart Rangers defeated the Coast Alarms by a score of 2-0. The Rangers quickly scored against the Alarms and maintained a shut-out defense for the remainder of the game. Forward David Flowers scored the first goal for the Rangers.

Forward Paul Campo scored the second goal on a direct penalty kick from just inside mid-field. John (Skip) Rhode was named most improved for the game.

Forward Gregg Dhuy and Halfback Jason Chinice were cited for best offense and Fullbacks M.J. Farve, Mark Gagnon and Robbie Elkins were cited for outstanding defense. The Coca Cola team remains in first place in the division, undefeated. McDonald Realty is second, and Gateway remains in third place in the age division.

Under 8

In Under 8 play, Rick's Trophies remains in first place and Gulf Coast Sweepers are in second place. Both teams are undefeated.

The Charles H. Johnson, Inc. team defeated the Rotary Club team by a score of 2-1. Coach Jackie Kidd of the Charles H. Johnson, Inc. team cited Brantley Ladner for overall play, Shawn Fayard for good defense, Christopher Gibson for a good first effort, and Chris Harris for good effort on his return to the team after participating in an under 10 tournament in Gulfport. The Magnolia team defeated the Alarms 2-0.

Kyle Kidd and Kile Foster were credited with the teams two goals. Christopher Flowers of Rotary was credited with Rotary's single goal. The Rotary team played good defense but was sluggish with offense. Coach Flowers of Rotary congratulated both teams for a good effort in an exciting afternoon game.

Girls Under-10
Coach Jeff Debenport's Magnolia under 10 girls soccer team, sponsored by the Krewe of Magnolia,

The second game was against the Suball Har team which took the title in the third division and of the day. The Magnolia team's victory was won over the Suball Angels with a score of 2-1. Coach Krost was cited for good defense play in that game. In all, the under 10 girls had a full day of soccer and fun. Congratulations Magnolia!

Fuel tank tips

What's the most important piece of safety equipment on your outboard motor? Well, for me it's definitely the fuel tank.

Gasoline, as every boater knows, is a very volatile substance. That's why the fuel tank is a very important piece of equipment. It's one item not to be taken for granted.

Before you head out on the lake or river next time, take a few moments to inspect your fuel tank. In fact, tear this column out for easy reference when inspecting your tank. Look for leaks, large dents that might turn into leaks and loose or damaged fittings. Also, check your fuel lines for deterioration.

The U.S. Coast Guard has made a point of this due to alcohol extended fuels.

If you find any problems, it's probably time to invest in a new tank. Don't be one of those boaters who take the explosive power of six gallons of gas for granted. Just one spark or wind-blown cigarette butt could spell disaster.

Here's some good advice on fuel tank features from the friendly people at OMC Parts & Accessories, who make fuel tanks for Johnson and Evinrude outboards.

Fuel line fittings. "Start by shopping at the dealership where you bought the motor," advises Dave Hartke, a fuel systems specialist at OMC in Waukegan, Ill. "The dealer can sell you a tank with fittings engineered to match your motor."

We see a lot of after-market tanks that use fuel line adapters which may offer some compromises. The biggest problem is usually restricted fuel flow at the primer bulb or tank outlet. This may not allow enough fuel to reach the motor at full throttle, which can be disastrous, causing it to run so lean that the motor is ruined.

"A tank from the motor manufacturer will be designed to provide the proper fuel flow rate at all RPMs," Hartke said.

Tank construction. "The tank should be made of heavy-gauge steel, not the thinner metal used in lawn mower gas cans," Hartke advises. "The best tanks will also have a weld seam around the base, which is stronger and less prone to leakage than a crimped or press-fit seam."

"Accidents can occur when internal pressure builds up to the point of bursting poor-quality tanks," Hartke said. "This pressure usually occurs due to changing temperatures. You may fill the tank up early in the morning when the air is cool, but by noon the tank is sitting in the sun and the gas vapor expands."

"OMC tanks are designed as pressure vessels, using the same principles that apply to propane tanks, for example. They can withstand internal pressures of up to 25 pounds per square inch," Hartke emphasized.

Safety cap. "An important feature to look for is a two-position cap, like the one found on your car's radiator," Hartke explained. "This allows internal pressure to escape as you open the cap and directs it downward rather than onto the operator."

One-way venting. A unique feature found on OMC's tank is a one-way vent built into the quick-disconnect fuel line fitting. OMC's fuel lines disconnect at both the tank and the motor.

When the line is disconnected at the tank the vent closes automatically to prevent gas vapors from escaping, into your car trunk, for example. When the fuel line is connected, the one-way vent allows air to enter the tank but keeps the dangerous fumes from leaving the tank.

Convenience features. Some other nice touches found on better-quality tanks include a retaining chain or other device to keep you from dropping the cap into the lake or sand, and brackets on the tank to wrap extra fuel line around and keep it out of the way and off the bottom of the boat.

This reduces the chance of a kinked line restricting fuel flow and should help the lines last longer. Also, lines should be checked for deterioration due to the effects of blended fuels. Alcohol extended fuels may also cause corrosion in the tanks.

A fuel level gauge is handy. Check to see if the gauge lens is made of glass or plastic. Plastic lenses often yellow or cloud up with age, according to OMC's Hartke.

It should be stressed that these tips mostly apply to portable fuel tanks and not the built-in types found in professionally constructed bass boats. That is a topic for another column!

One of the cheapest insurance policies any boater can buy is a good fuel filter. Fuel contaminated with water or dirt can foul or even ruin an outboard motor and leave you stranded on the water.

One of the newest filters on the market is from OMC Parts & Accessories. It features a spin-on cartridge, much like an automobile oil filter, with a treated paper element able to catch particles as small as 25 microns and separate water from fuel, according to OMC.

The filter kit is available from Johnson and Evinrude outboard dealers and may be adapted for use with almost any brand of outboard motor.

Excursion Boat fare hiked again

Regularly scheduled excursion boat service to Ship Island from Gulfport and Biloxi will begin Spring operations on Saturday, Mar. 5 from Gulfport and Saturday, Mar. 26 from Biloxi.

Superintendent Jerry Eubanks said Pan Isles, Inc., of Gulfport is the only excursion boat service authorized by contract with the United States Department of Interior, National Park Service, to provide regularly scheduled trips from the mainland to Ship Island.

"This service is provided for the public to have access to the recreational and historical resources located on this Island, a unit of the Gulf Islands National Seashore," said Eubanks.

The round trip fare for riding the excursion boat from either Gulfport or Biloxi is $11 for adults, up an additional $1 over last year's $10 fare in spite of stable fuel prices, for and $5 for children ages 3-10. Children under 3 years of age ride free of charge.

It takes approximately 70 minutes to cruise to Ship Island.

Visitor facilities on the Island include accessible restrooms and showers, beach pavilion with picnic tables and a concession snack bar. Chairs and umbrellas are available for rent.

Ship Island is also the location of Fort Massachusetts, a historic brick fortification.

Persons planning to visit are reminded that glass containers are prohibited on the island. For more information on these and other services available through Gulf Islands National Seashore, write or call Superintendent, 3500 Park Road, Ocean Springs, Mississippi, 39564, (601) 875-9057.

they are studying the Old Testament this year. Afternoons are devoted to band and sports. They each play basketball in Latter-day Saints League.

Bay Senior High Science Fair winners listed

The Bay Senior High Science Fair was judged Thursday, Feb. 25 in the high school cafeteria.

Projects created by students were judged by engineers from NSTL and science teachers from Sildell, La. on creative ability, scientific thought/engineering goals, thoroughness, skill and clarity.

Categories included behavioral and social sciences, botany, chemistry and biochemistry, earth and space science, environmental science, engineering, mathematics and computers, medicine and health, microbiology, physics and zoology.

The second place overall winner was Jennifer Johnson and her project 'Caffeine: The Big Lie.'

Third place overall went to Don Johnson and his project 'The Synthetic Muscle.'

Other winners included: Behavioral and social sciences: First place, Jessica Johnson; honorable mentions, Marie Summers and Tommy Bergeron.

Botany: First place, Laura Rupp; honorable mentions, Kristy Clark and Tammy Bergeron.

Chemistry and biochemistry: First place, Hollie DeCamp; second place, Ginger Cagle.

Engineering: First place, Don Johnson; second place, John Dowden, third place, Mike Hogue; honorable mention, Chris Towles.

Medicine and health: First place, Jennifer Johnson, honorable mentions, Danny Williams and Nathan Barber.

Physics: Second place, Sean

Foreman; third place, Micah Necaise; fourth place, Rina Robertson; honorable mentions, Chad LaFontaine and Kim Krankey.

Zoology: First place, Joel Duncan, honorable mentions, Jennifer Prox and Devin Rose.

Environmental science: First place, Ted Bilbo, honorable mentions, Becki Mitchell and Kevin Edwards.

All first and second place winners will compete in the Regional Science Fair to be held in the Gulf Coast Coliseum on March 18, which is open to the public.

Teachers of science at Bay Senior high are Jon Blanchette, biology; Tom Laird, biology, marine biology and general science; Roxanna Moore, chemistry, advanced chemistry and physics; and Kathy Ott, general science.

TV news personality discusses career with Bay High student writers were greeted by a familiar face. Not familiar to their school, but familiar to their television screens. The celebrity was A.J. Giardino, sports editor for WLOX-TV in Biloxi.

Speaking to Jill Williams' journalism class and John Necaise's English class, Giardino talked about the field of broadcasting by giving the students a summary of his own career.

He started into the communications area as a disc jockey for a country music radio station but was later switched to a popular music station because of his New Orleans accent.

He also recalled an embarrassing moment for him when he read the news twice during a news update on television. "His background was interesting as well as entertaining," Williams said.

Giardino explained some of the advantages and disadvantages of his work and surprised the students by being what some referred to as "down to earth."

"He was practical and interesting at the same time," senior journalism student Devin Rose said.

"He seemed to be an ordinary guy," Junior English student Michelle Dempsey said. "Not really larger than life as one would expect from a media star," she added.

Giardino stated the importance of his family to him as well as his career and informed the students about various areas of the communications field. "The most important idea that he stressed to my students was that writing skills are absolutely necessary if one is to become a success in the media field," Mrs. Williams said.

Neck strain from poor posture, or from an accident of some kind, can result in a variety of shoulder, arm or hand problems, with accompanying pain. The cause is often an irritation or "pinching" of the large nerves in the neck as they leave the spine and extend into the extremities. An understanding of these conditions can help you avoid problems and suffering.

He's got the beat

Carl Major, a junior at Bay Senior High, recently received top honors in Lions Band competitions by being selected first chair drummer.

As a member of this band, Major will attend the Lions Band Convention in Denver, Colo. from June 19 to July 1 where the band will perform and compete against other Lions Bands in an International Competition Parade.

Last year Major traveled with the Mississippi Lions All-State Band to Taiwan and Hawaii.

Robert Gilmore, director at Bay Senior High, also made the trip as a staff member.

Major also received first band, first chair honors in both the Gulf Coast Band Clinic and the Mississippi State Band Clinic. He is a member of the All-South Honors Band which consists of 127 students from eight southern states and is drum captain of Bay High's band, receiving all superior ratings in band competitions.

Major has been training with Jim Hamilton of Long Beach High School for five years and states that he owes all of his progress and recognition to Hamilton. Major says, "If it had not been for Mr. Hamilton's hard work, inspiration and for pushing me as hard as he does, I wouldn't be where I am today."

Major is being nominated for the McDonald's All-American High School Band in April. This band consists of two outstanding seniors from each state and one from each union and province. The band will perform for the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade as well as other parades and charity functions.

Major, 16, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Major of Waveland and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benderet of Bay St. Louis.

Student financial aid deadline nears

HATTIESBURG— A March 15 deadline for financial aid for the 1988-89 academic year is approaching, and the University of Southern Mississippi is urging students and their parents to make the date a priority.

"March 15 is a priority date, but it could become a deadline date for some programs," said USM Financial Aid director Bill Fron. "Several of the grant programs have limited funds, so early applicants are considered before those applying after the March 15 deadline."

"It appears we'll have additional money available this year, but individual eligibility may be less, due to rule changes made by the Congress," he pointed out.

Those rule changes include a requirement to base applications on family income during the previous year, instead of income expected during the current year. Also, greater allowances will be made to students with children, whether they are single or married.

Fron said each year, more than 10,000 students apply for some type of financial aid, and 5,000 to 6,000 receive aid through his office. An additional 2,000 to 3,000 receive other forms of aid, such as scholarships. More than half of the USM student body receives some type of financial aid.

Although the amount of financial aid dollars for USM from all sources is expected to be restored to the $22 million level of a couple of years ago, Fron noted book fees, tuition and food costs also have increased at most universities. "University officials are doing all they can to keep the costs from continuing to rise," he added.

Fron urged parents to complete their 1987 income tax returns prior to compiling financial aid statements. "Estimating income could nullify the application during the correction and verification process," he said.

Students applying for financial aid must complete two forms—an institutional financial aid form available from the USM Financial Aid Office, and from the offices of area high schools and junior colleges; and an ACT family financial statement available from the Financial Aid Office.

"Individuals wishing to apply for financial aid may call us to obtain the necessary forms and they may obtain assistance in completing the forms as well," Fron said, noting the 1-800-CALL-USM toll-free number in Mississippi. Those outside the state may call (601) 266-4774.

After applying, students should know by June if they will receive some type of financial aid, Fron said.

"The sooner they apply, the sooner they will know. We cannot look at the applications for those who apply after March 15 until we have completed processing those meeting the deadline," he stressed.

Types of financial aid available for students being admitted into regular degree-granting programs include Pell grants, bank loans, scholarships, work-study programs, Perkins loans (formerly known as National Direct Student Loans), State Student Incentive grants and Supplemental Educational Opportunity grants.

Rusty Roper cited by Exchange

Rusty Roper, son of Judge and Mrs. John M. Roper, Sr. of Ocean Springs was honored as the January Youth of the Month by the Exchange Club of Gulfport.

Roper, a junior at Coast Episcopal High School, is vice president of the Student Council and a member of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, MU Alpha Theta, the German Club, and the Theatrical Society. He is a member of Coast Episcopal High School Scholar's Bowl team and is on the honor roll.

Roper is also a member of the Coast Episcopal High School varsity basketball, track, soccer, tennis and softball teams.

The Exchange Club is a national service organization with chapters throughout the country. One of its many programs for young people is the "Youth of the Month" chosen from area schools. From the students honored each month by the club, a "Youth of the Year" is chosen, and the winner is eligible to compete on the district level.

WAYNE DOWDY

U.S. SENATE

If you're planning to vote in the Democratic Primary on March 8, I hope you'll plan to vote for me as your next United States Senator.

I'm proud of my record over the past six years in Congress, and if you look at how I've voted to protect Social Security and Veterans' Benefits, to protect funding for education, and to protect Mississippi jobs and products, I hope you'll feel I've earned your vote.

I don't make a lot of promises.

In fact, I only make one.

Here it is. I promise I'll never forget who I am, where I come from, or who sent me.
